COMMENTARY FROM THE CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

During the year the company was renamed as La Concorde Holdings Limited following the sale of the KWV Holdings Limited (“KWV”) operational assets. KWV was established to coordinate and stabilize the South African wine industry. Starting under the leadership of the first CEO, Dr Charles Kohler, the company transformed the South African wine industry and built KWV into an internationally recognized company and brand. The sale of the KWV assets and associated brand brings an end to this era and the company is now required to reassess its future plans.

The company’s assets now comprise cash and near cash resources of approximately R1,2 billion, property assets valued at R207 million and an art collection valued at R42 million. These valuations were independently obtained at the time the operational assets were sold. If the directors believe that the valuation of these assets have changed substantially, they will obtain updated independent valuations and disclose these valuations as part of the financial results in future.

The board and management are assessing the future options of the company and continue to engage with the various stakeholders to formalise a future strategy. The controlling shareholder has indicated that its preference is that the resources of the company be retained and utilised to make other investments rather than to return the capital to shareholders.

The operating cost to manage the company is low and cost of the contract with Niveus Investments Limited (“Niveus”) for the executive management of the company, is less than 0,5% of the assets of company per annum. This enables the company to take the required time to evaluate its future, without the burden of an expensive head office and management cost. The future management cost of the company will be assessed as part of the overall business strategy.

In the interim, the company is focused on its property assets to ensure that each property asset has a development or optimisation plan.

The company will continue to invest its cash resources in low risk investment instruments while retaining the flexibility to access the cash in order to invest in opportunities should it present itself. The company has no sectoral or risk preferences but at this time it is expected that the majority of the company’s assets will be invested in assets that have a moderate to low investment risk.

Overview of the results of the company

As disclosed in our interim results, KWV concluded agreements in terms of which the company disposed of its operational assets for an aggregate consideration of R1,18 billion.

The consolidated book value of the operational assets and liabilities is R1,37 billion as at 30 September 2016, which is reduced to the sale price of R1,18 billion, resulting in a loss of R191 million before tax.

On 14 October 2016, R575 million, approximately 50% of the purchase consideration, was paid by the buyer. The remainder of the purchase consideration is deferred and will be settled in three instalments on 1 October 2017, 1 October 2018 and 1 October 2019. The instalments are secured by way of Investec Bank payment obligations that carry interest at 8,5%, compounded annually. The balance of the purchase consideration is disclosed as loans receivable.

The net cash flow shown in the condensed consolidated statement of cash flows of R520 million includes cash of R55 million disposed of.

The company earned interest income of R46,8 million on its cash balances and loans receivable for the period under review.

Discontinued operations

Discontinued operations comprise the sale of branded spirits, wines, RTDs and contract bottling. Revenue increased by 3,3% compared to the prior period and gross profit increased by 15%, due to better management of production costs and increased profitability in the South African market.

Future announcements

Announcements about the future of the company will be published on the company’s website at www.laconcordeholdings.co.za and shareholders whose email details are on record will also be notified by electronic mail.
